Girl Hearts Girl is a lesbian romance novel by Lucy Sutcliffe. It was published in 2020 and quickly became a bestseller. The novel tells the story of two young women who fall in love in a small town. Their love is forbidden, but they can't help themselves. They must fight for their love, even if it means risking everything.

A Forbidden Love

The novel is set in a small town where everyone knows everyone else's business. The two main characters, Lily and Rose, are both from different worlds. Lily is the daughter of the town's mayor, while Rose is the daughter of a local farmer. Despite their different backgrounds, they are drawn to each other. They share a love of music and art, and they both feel like outsiders in their small town.

Their love is forbidden, however. Lily's parents would never approve of her being with a girl, and Rose's parents are strict Catholics. But Lily and Rose can't help themselves. They are in love, and they are determined to be together, no matter what.

A Fight for Love

Lily and Rose's love is not easy. They must fight for it every step of the way. They must face prejudice and discrimination from their families and friends. They must also face their own fears and insecurities. But they are determined to be together, and they will not let anything stand in their way.

Girl Hearts Girl is a beautiful and moving story about love, acceptance, and the power of the human spirit. It is a must-read for anyone who has ever felt like an outsider or who has ever been in love.
