Synopsis

Listen We All Bleed is a poignant and thought-provoking novel that delves into the complexities of identity, loss, and the transformative power of storytelling. It follows the journey of two sisters, Sarah and Lena, as they navigate the challenges of family, culture, and their own evolving sense of self.

Sarah, the elder sister, is a driven and ambitious doctor who has always felt a sense of distance from her Korean heritage. Lena, on the other hand, is a talented artist who embraces her cultural roots and finds solace in her creativity. As they navigate the complexities of adulthood, they confront their own experiences of loss and displacement.

Through a series of evocative and interconnected stories, the novel explores the universal themes of family, love, and the search for belonging. It delves into the complexities of identity, both personal and cultural, and the ways in which our experiences shape who we are.
