That's where the book "The Main Points of How to Make People Like You in 90 Seconds or Less" comes in. This groundbreaking work by Leil Lowndes reveals the proven techniques that anyone can use to win hearts and build lasting connections within 90 seconds or less.

Based on extensive research and years of experience, Leil Lowndes has identified the key principles that make people like us. These principles are:

- Smile - A genuine smile is one of the most powerful ways to make a positive impression. It shows that you are approachable and friendly, and it can instantly put others at ease.
- Make eye contact - Eye contact is another important nonverbal cue that can make a big difference in how others perceive us. When you make eye contact with someone, it shows that you are interested in what they have to say and that you respect them.
- Find common ground - One of the best ways to build rapport with someone is to find common ground. This could be anything from shared interests to similar experiences. When you find something that you have in common with someone, it creates a sense of connection and makes it easier to build a relationship.
- Use humor - Humor can be a great way to break the ice and make someone feel more comfortable around you. However, it's important to use humor appropriately and to avoid making jokes that could be offensive or hurtful.
- Be a good listener - One of the most important things you can do to make someone like you is to be a good listener. When you listen to someone, you are showing them that you care about what they have to say and that you value their opinion.

These are just a few of the key principles that Leil Lowndes outlines in her book. By following these principles, you can learn how to make a positive impression on anyone you meet, and you can build strong relationships that will last a lifetime.
